The Healthcare Environment.
C/S Products & Services.

John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford

Whether you are designing small community healthcare buildings or large acute hospitals, your choice of finishes will have a direct effect on the patients and staff. Specifying the appropriate products, which provide value for money with innovative design and comply with the relevant codes means you need an inspirational choice of complementary products.

At C/S we share the vision with all involved, to provide the best solutions for the hospitals of the 21st century. This vision builds on a reputation, established over 30 years in the UK, for providing innovative products for healthcare design.

We actively encourage architects and design managers to consult with us so that we can respond by providing inspirational design for healing environments.
